FAO Gavin McCloskey

Dear Gavin,

I enclose letter that I received today. Although I did get a Government Gateway e-mail acknowledgement on 5 October, I cannot find a record of a token. I can enter this ID and request a password, but I thought that I would first check whether you are doing all of the online HMRC work, and whether there can be more than one person registered.

The Sheerness factory has been hard work and we had to get rid of several employees, but it has been profitable for the last 2 months and should be profitable each month now. I believe that the rent and mortgage are all set up OK. Company year end is 31 March 09. Not sure if there will be any pension contribution this year. Presumably pension scheme will need to have rent and mortgage up to date as at 05 April?

David is spending a lot of money refurbishing and equipping Dudley, and we have produced sample products that several supermarkets like and we are getting some indications of likely orders. Bolton also has one very large potential customer that we are making progress with. That factory is ready to go, but unless there is going to be something like £20m of annual sales, it is not really viable. We bought the assets so cheaply that we could sell everything and get our money back, if these large contracts founder.

Have a good Christmas and all the best for 2009.

Yours sincerely

Peter Judson

Scheme Administrator identification number (Scheme Administrator ID)

You have been pre-registered as a Scheme Administrator for Pension Schemes Online.

Go to www.hmrc.gov.uk and select 'Pension Schemes' under 'do it online' to register and activate the service.

You will need:

- your activation token which appeared on screen when you completed pre-registration, and
- your Scheme Administrator ID.

Your Scheme Administrator ID is A0087136

You will need your Scheme Administrator ID:

- to register for Pension Schemes Online. Once registered, you will not need it again to access Pension Schemes Online. However, if you want to be recorded as the Scheme Administrator of a particular pension scheme and we already have a Scheme Administrator recorded against that scheme, you will need to give that Scheme Administrator your ID so they can associate you to the scheme. Once they have done so, you should log on to Pension Schemes Online and select 'add yourself as Scheme Administrator' under 'Select an action'.
- if you have a practitioner and they will be filing information on your behalf. You will need to provide them with your Scheme Administrator ID to ensure the submission is attached to the correct record.

Further information is available at www.hmrc.gov.uk Select 'Pension Schemes' under 'businesses & corporations' and then select 'Use Pension Schemes Online'.

If you are not a Scheme Administrator then contact:
