Dear Miss McAlister

Data protection registration - renewal due - action required

If you have already sent us your payment, please ignore this letter.

Your registration as a data controller under the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA) will expire on 10 February 2018.

You are legally required to either:

- renew your registration every year, or
- cancel your registration if your circumstances have changed and you no longer need to be registered.

Renewal costs £35 or £500 (VAT is nil in both cases) depending on the size of your organisation. For more information about registration fees and to see how much you need to pay, please visit ico.org.uk/cost. If the amount you need to pay has changed from £35.00, which you paid last year, please contact us.

You can pay the renewal fee in any of these ways:

Direct debit – this is the best way to make sure you always renew on time. Just complete the enclosed instruction and post it with a copy of this letter to our Registration Team. We'll do the rest. Please do not email the instruction to us. We are unable to process mandates electronically.

Paying online – you can renew securely online with a debit or credit card. Just visit ico.org.uk/pay.

Cheque – make your cheque payable to the Information Commissioner. Put your registration reference on the back – it's at the top of this letter and post it to our Registration Team, with a copy of this letter.

If you think you no longer need to be registered as a data controller, please call us
