Dear Sir/Madam

PAYE/NIC amount overdue plus interest £400.00

You have not responded to our previous attempts to collect your debt. You must either pay the full amount due immediately or contact us on the above number. If you do neither we will assume you are unwilling to comply and will take distraint action which involves seizing your assets for sale at public auction.

You should consider the likely consequences if we need to take distraint action. Assets taken can realise less than their actual value at a public auction so you may be subject to further legal action if the value of goods taken does not fully satisfy the liability. In addition, you may be liable for any costs incurred in a sale of your assets, your future credit rating may be affected and, though not the intention, you may find the seizure and sale of assets embarrassing.

You should call the above number to pay by debit or credit card. Information about how to pay online or by other payment methods is available at www.hmrc.gov.uk/payinghmrc or exceptionally, you can send a cheque with your printed payslip to HMRC Banking, Bradford, BD98 1YB.

Only ignore this letter if you have already paid in full. Calls may be monitored for training purposes.

Yours faithfully

Officer of Revenue and Customs
