Your guide to reading your statement

Your investment overview
 Shows the value of your investment three months ago, and the value at the end of this statement period. It also shows a summary of what has come in and gone out of your investment.

The unit positions and values represent the trades that have been placed on your behalf. Please note that these units are not fully held by Old Mutual Wealth Nominees Limited until the trade has settled which can be up to 5 working days later.

Previous and Current values
 When comparing your previous and current values, please remember that your current value reflects the market performance of your selected funds/portfolios over the statement period, as well as the amounts shown in the In and Out columns.

Valuation
 A more detailed valuation of your investment at the end of the statement period, showing the assets you're invested in, the units you hold, the price per unit and the total value.
