Get organised with a money or balance transfer

Hello Mr Watson,

As we're adapting to a new kind of normal, these money and balance transfer options could help you to organise your finances.

With a money transfer you could move funds from your Lloyds Bank credit card to your UK current account, to help with unplanned expenses. Or, you could transfer balances from most other credit and some store cards to your Lloyds Bank credit card, which might make things easier to manage.

These offers are available subject to status and only apply to new transfers made by 17 September 2020 on credit card number ending 5349.

To keep your promotional rate and avoid additional fees and charges, you need to stay within your credit limit of £6,100 and make at least your minimum payment on time each month. Your standard interest rates (at that time) will apply to any balances left after a promotional period ends. Refer to your latest statement for information about interest rates and fees which apply to your account.

You can make as many transfers as you like (minimum £100 per transfer) as long as you don't go over your credit limit. You'll need the details of the credit or store card you want to transfer a balance from, or the bank account details you want to transfer money to.

So you understand how offers work, please consider the important information on the reverse of this letter before deciding to make a transfer.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Rockcliffe

We're restarting smart meter installations – with increased safety measures

Hello Mr Watson,

Following changes to the Government's guidelines, we're now able to install smart meters again. We've introduced some changes to keep you and our engineers safe at all times.

Why should I get a smart meter?

With more people at home, energy use is increasing. So a smart meter can really help because you can:

- Control your usage – an In-Home Display allows you to set a daily or monthly budget, and shows how much energy you're using in pounds and pence.
- Get accurate billing – automatic meter readings mean no more estimated bills.*
- Keep your smart functionality if you decide to switch to another supplier in the future.

To book your installation, please go to sse.co.uk/smart-register or call us today on 0345 072 8018

However, if you are part of the Government's Shielding Group or anyone in your household is showing COVID-19 symptoms, please don't book an appointment just now. Get in touch when your situation changes and we'll be happy to book an appointment.

Keeping you safe during the installation

How do I know the engineer is working safely?

- If we have your phone number, they'll call you before the installation to make sure everyone in your home is well.
- They'll wash their hands at the van, wear gloves and disinfect their equipment and areas where they work

What do I need to do on installation day?

- Wait in another room while they do the work and always stay 2 metres away.
- You'll need a phone our engineer can call if they have to talk to you during the installation.
- Open any windows and doors where they're working.

To book your installation, please go to sse.co.uk/smart-register or call us today on 0345 072 8018

Kind regards,

The SSE Team
